

END CAP WITH INTEGRAL PARTIAL REINFORCEMENT

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5

A metal tank cap is integral with a reinforcing member via a narrow connection and covers an open end of the tank with adjacent reinforcement members being spaced from one another along each side of the core. The reinforcing members each have a pair of flanges extending outwardly from the sides thereof and have openings therein for receiving mounting 10 anchors.